UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON

In re:

Chapter 13 Trustee's Authority to
Disburse Pre-confirmation Adequate
Protection Payments

General Order No. 2012-2

The Bankruptcy Abuse Prevention and Consumer Protection Act of 2005 requires debtors to make direct adequate protection payments to a creditor holding an allowed secured claim unless the court orders otherwise. General Order No. BAPCPA-3, adopted October 14, 2005, provided that preconfirmation adequate protection payments be made to the chapter 13 Trustee and that the Trustee would then disburse those payments to creditors from funds on hand. General Order No. BAPCPA-3 was superseded effective July 1, 2008. See General Order 2008-1. Apparently inadvertently, the provisions governing preconfirmation adequate protection payments were not otherwise preserved. Now, therefore, it is hereby

ORDERED that pre-confirmation adequate protection payments required by
