

Filing bankruptcy on your own can be very risky. You might qualify for free legal help!

Stop by the

Pro Se Bankruptcy Clinic

2:00 PM to 4:00 PM

1st & 3rd Thursdays of the month

NOTE: During the pandemic, the clinic is operating remotely. Sign up for an appointment at nwclc.org/bankruptcy-clinic/

See other side for details

How the Clinic works:

The clinic has experienced bankruptcy lawyers who can:

- look through your forms to catch things that may cause problems for your case
- help you fix problems in your forms and file amended (revised) ones
- step in to represent you in your case, including going with you to the Meeting of Creditors
- advise you in various bankruptcy-related issues

Who qualifies for the Clinic:

# of people in your household:	Total gross income (before taxes & expenses) of everybody in your household:*
1	Less than $24,280.00 per year
2	Less than $32,920.00 per year
3	Less than $41,560.00 per year
4	Less than $50,200.00 per year
5	Less than $58,840.00 per year
More than 5	Less than $8,640.00 more per year for each additional person

What if you do not qualify?

If your household income is too high or your case has problems that are too complex for the clinic to handle, we can offer a list of bankruptcy lawyers who are willing to consider working for a reduced fee.

The Pro Se Bankruptcy Clinic is brought to you by:

The Northwest
Consumer Law Center

www.nwclc.org

in partnership with

* These numbers will change after 2018